

Agenda for 1993 Annual Meeting
North Carolina Chapter - American Fisheries Society
Betsy-Jeff Penn 4-H Center, Reidsville, NC
February 8-9, 1993

Monday

- 1100-1200 Registration
1200-1300 Lunch
1300-1330 Welcome and Introductions
1330-1500 Student Papers
1500-1515 Break

PROGRAM: STATUS OF ECONOMICALLY IMPORTANT FISHERIES

- 1515-1535 Reef Fisheries - Gene Huntsman
1535-1555 Coastal Marine Fisheries - Mike Street
1555-1615 Albemarle/Roanoke Striped Bass Fishery - Kent Nelson
1615-1635 Inland Warmwater Fisheries - Scott VanHorn
1635-1655 Inland Coldwater Fisheries - Jim Borawa
1655-1715 Economic Importance NC Fisheries - Jim Easley
1800-1900 Dinner
1930- Social

Tuesday

- 0800-0900 Breakfast

PROGRAM CON'T.: STATUS OF NONGAME AND ENDANGERED FISH POPULATIONS

- 0900-0920 Freshwater Mussels - John Alderman
0920-0940 Endangered Finfish - Don Cloutman
0940-1010 Endangered Species Act - Ron Escano
1010-1020 Break

Student Session Presentations

- 1:30-1:45 Maurice Crawford, Larry Crowder, and Mark Fonseca. Habitat heterogeneity and fish utilization in seagrass meadows. North Carolina State University.
- 1:45-2:00 Milli Hayman, David Briley, and Joseph Hightower. Assessment of contamination effects on fish health and community structure in Slocum Creek, North Carolina. North Carolina State University.
- 2:00-2:15 Lucy Lowe and Jerry West. Food habits and production estimates of brook trout in Panthertown Creek. Western Carolina University.
- 2:15-2:30 Elise Irwin and Richard Noble. Electrofishing grids: a quantitative technique for littoral fish community assessment. North Carolina State University.
- 2:30-3:00 Special Non-Student Presentation
- Dr. JoAnn Burkholder. Tracking a phantom: a new toxic dinoflagellate causes major fish kills in North Carolina estuaries. Department of Botany, North Carolina State University.