

STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

EMPLOYMENT

Students attending the 2009 WDAFS Annual Meeting have the opportunity to defray some of their meeting costs by working a minimum of four hours. Students that work during the meeting will still have plenty of time to attend technical sessions, the socials, and network with other students and professionals. We are looking for students to assist with a variety of logistical support including:

- Help staff the registration table
- Assist the trade show and vendors with set-up and take down
- Assist in organizing and displaying raffle and silent auction items
- Assist in the raffle and silent auction
- Assist with Spawning Run
- Assist with the Banquet at the Aquarium/Botanical Garden
- Assist with poster presentation set-up and take down
- Assist with Audio Visual

Student worker will pay their own registration, lodging and travel, but will be reimbursed via check following satisfactory completion of the work hours they sign up for:

- A four hour shift results in $100 reimbursement
- Each hour of work over four pays $10/hour

FIRST AND EARLY SIGN UP
DEADLINE IS APRIL 17

(Additional opportunities will still be open, but please sign up early to help the planning committees with scheduling)

STUDENT COLLOQUIUM ACTIVITY

Tuesday evening 6:00-9:00 in the Pavillion Ballroom

Pose questions and discuss career, employment, academic and training opportunities with a panel of professionals from non-governmental, federal, state, academia, and private organizations!! Following the panel discussion additional early, mid- and late-career level fisheries scientists will be available for one-on-one dialogue in an informal setting to talk about experiences, opportunities, and challenges in fisheries science.
